Types of contributions

Papers are limited to three types: original articles, reviews, and short communications. Each paper must be a report of original research which has not been submitted elsewhere.

Page lengths

The length of paper is limited to 12 printed pages for original papers, 8 printed pages for reviews, and 6 pages for short communications. To encourage more concisely written articles, authors are required to pay charge € 10 for every page in excess of these page limits. The excess page length should not exceed 4 printed pages for original articles, 2 printed pages for reviews, and 2 printed pages for short communications.

Submission of manuscripts

Manuscript must be written on English (British spelling). We recommended to authors whose native language is not English should their manuscripts checked by native speakers of English before submission. Authors should submit their manuscripts to the Journal of Forest Science online. Please log directly on to the site:

<http://www.agriculturejournals.cz/web/JFS.htm> and upload your manuscript following the instructions given in tab Guide for Authors. In case you have any difficulty while submitting your manuscript online, contact us at the email: braunova.marcela@uzei.cz

Guide for Authors

Decision to publish

The editors reserve the right to accept or reject manuscripts for publication.

Copyright transfer

Authors transfer the copyright to their articles to the Journal of Forest Science effective when the articles are accepted for publication. The copyright covers the exclusive and unlimited rights to reproduce and distribute the article in any form of reproduction (printing, electronic media, or any other form); the copyright also covers translation rights for all languages and countries. For U.S. authors, the copyright is transferred to the extent transferable. The “Copyright Transfer Statement” has to be sent to the publisher together with the corrected proofs. The form is included in the proofs author receive.

Offprints

Offprints will be sent to the corresponding author as free “electronic reprint” in Portable Document Format (pdf) via electronical editorial system.

Printed First

Paper will be published in printed form shortly after receipt of the corrected proofs.

After released of the printed version, the paper can also be cited by issue and page number.

Papers are also published online after being printed.

Manuscript Preparation

- Style
Manuscript should be arranged as follows: (1) title page, (2) abstract, (3) text, (4) references.
- Typing
The text should be double-spaced throughout with margins of approximately 2.5 cm on top, bottom, and each side of A4 size pages.
- Title page
The first page of each paper must contain the following items: (1) the title of the paper, (2) the name(s) and address(es) of the author(s), the full postal address with the telephone and fax numbers and e-mail address of the corresponding author (4) article type, (5) page count for the text, including abstract and references, (6) number(s) of figures and tables listed separately, and (7) necessary footnotes.

- Abstract

The abstract should be no longer than 170 words and should be followed by up to six key words.

- Text

The text of the article should be divided into the following sections: Introduction, Material and Methods, Results, Discussion, Acknowledgements, References, tables, and figure legends.

- Tables

Tables must be numbered with Arabic numerals according to their sequence in the text. Each table must be typewritten double-spaced on a separate page. Each table should have a brief and self-explanatory title. Any explanation essential to the understanding of the table should be given as a footnote below the table.

Vertical lines should not be used to separate columns; additional space should be used to separate columns, if necessary.

- Figures

Figures (drawings and photographs) must be numbered with Arabic numerals according to their sequence in the text. Each figure should be submitted on a separate page, each bearing the figure number, and the author's name. Figure legend should be brief and self-explanatory and should be placed in the end of the text.

Graphs should be provided in MS Excel and they should be stored with original data.

If reduction is necessary, the alternative scale desired should be stated. The publisher reserves the right to reduce or enlarge figures. Figure parts should be identified by lowercase roman letter (a, b, etc.). If illustrations are supplied with uppercase labelling, lowercase letters will still be used in the figure legends and citations.

For production

Submit all figures as separate files and do not integrate them within the text. The preferred figure formats are TIFF and JPG formats.

Colour figures will be printed in black and white. However they will appear in colour only if author agrees to make a contribution (approx. € 200 for one print page) to printing cost.

References

All publication cited in text should be given in a reference list following the text.

Articles cited in the text will be referred to by surname of the author with the year of publication in parentheses. If there more than two authors, only the first author's name is given followed by et al. However, in the references list, names and initials of all authors should be given.

Use the following examples for arranging the references:

Proofreading

Authors are informed by e-mail that a temporary URL has been created from which they can obtain their proofs. Proofreading is the responsibility of the authors. Authors should make their proof correction (formal correction only) on a printout of the pdf file supplied, checking that the text is complete and that all figures and tables are included. Substantial changes in content, e.g., new results, corrected values, title, and authorship, are not allowed without the approval of the responsible editor. In such a case please contact the Editorial Office before returning the proofs to the publisher. After publication, correction can be made only in exceptional cases.
