II. Data Processing Purposes and Legal Grounds for Processing

CAAS processes personal data of authors (corresponding authors and co-authors) exclusively for the purpose of publishing scientific journals and proper administrative record keeping. Data processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest (Art. 6(1e) GDPR).

CAAS processes personal data of reviewers for the purpose of reviewing of the published scientific journals and proper administrative record keeping. Data and a list of the reviewed articles will be processed and recorded in the database of our partner reviewers so that we may repeatedly offer you to cooperate with our organization. Data processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest (Art. 6(1e) GDPR).

CAAS processes personal data of editorial boards members (editors, co-editors and other members of editorial boards) for the purpose of publishing scientific journals and proper administrative record keeping. The CAAS publishes name, title and institution of the members of editorial boards for the purpose of presenting the editorial board as an erudite body. The presidents of the editorial boards (editors of the journals) are presented with their e-mail addresses in order to communicate with public.

Authors, reviewers, editors, co-editors and other members of editorial boards of the CAAS scientific journals shall be acquainted that legitimate interests may be implied, especially within collective e-mail campaigns to all CAAS journals authors, reviewers and members of editorial boards.

III. Personal data recipients

Your personal data are disclosed to the following recipients in compliance with Art. 4(9) GDPR:

- CAAS IT services providers, who run the servers and other HW;
- CAAS redaction system provider;

- Personal data may be further disclosed to the Ministry of Agriculture and other institutions concerned with agriculture (schools, non-profit organizations, etc.) and within the CAAS scientific/administrative boards (Board of Directors, Publishing board, Editorial board, etc.).

IV. Personal Data Storage Period

Storage period for the personal data of authors, reviewers and editorial boards' members is set to 5 years. After this period Personal data will be processed only to the extent necessary for scientific or historical research (especially published articles and authoring data).

V. Rights of data subjects

Which rights do you have in compliance with the personal data protection regulation?

- Right to obtain confirmation as to whether or not personal data concerning you are being processed, and, where that is the case, access to the personal data and the following information.
- Right to rectification, which means we have to rectify inaccurate personal data concerning you without undue delay.
- Right to erasure and to restriction of processing of your personal data if the conditions are fulfilled (Art. 17 and 18 GDPR).
- Right that we shall communicate to each recipient to whom the personal data have been disclosed, any rectification or erasure of your personal data or restriction of processing carried out, if the conditions are fulfilled (Art. 16, 17(1) and 18 GDPR).
- Right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you, unless authorized by the EU or Czech legislation.
- Right to lodge a complaint against our practice with a supervisory authority; in the Czech Republic this authority is the Office for Personal Data Protection in Prague.

You will have all the above-stated rights also after the Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council, on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) come to force.

VI. Automated decision-making

Automated decision-making is not applied.
